

SUBSCRIBE NOW!

For eight years, Australian healthcare professionals have been turning to The Journal of Complementary Medicine for authoritative, evidence-based information and CPE-accredited articles on a broad range of natural therapies and medicines.

Subscribe today for full access to the entire back catalogue through RMIT Publishing's Informit Health Collection. Perfect for all allied health professionals and students.

For more information visit www.informit.com.au

Get it all, get it fast — get online!

For Personal Subscribers

Get instant access to full text articles from current and back issues online via Informit at www.informit.com.au/jcm. Browse across issues or carry out a detailed search by author, date, keyword etc. Search abstract and indexes of the 200+ journals included in the entire Humanities & Social Sciences Collection - all index data is freely available online via Informit and includes links to full text. To access the full text you will need an online subscription. To order your subscription contact sales@rmitpublishing.com.au

For Institution and University Libraries and their members

The Journal of Complementary Medicine is available online to institutional libraries and their users via the Informit Humanities & Social Sciences Collection

ONLINE SUBSCRIPTION FEES

Via INFORMIT ANNUAL PRICES 2009

(Includes GST)

Personal subscription	$110.00
Secondary Schools, Non profits & Associations	$220.00
TAFE / Government	$440.00
Universities	$660.00

provided by RMIT Publishing. Most university libraries in Australia subscribe to Informit e-Library and therefore already have access to the full text content. Your librarian will be able to verify this. Alternatively, for more information contact support@rmitpublishing.com.au

Pay-Per-View

If you don't have access via personal or institutional subscription, articles may be downloaded on a pay-per-view basis ($33.00 per article, including GST)

About Informit

Informit, a product of RMIT Publishing, is the premier source of online full text, multi media and index databases that deliver the majority of Australasian scholarly research to the education, academic and government sectors. For more information visit www.informit.com.au

"Now, at a time where nurses and allied health professionals are under more pressure than ever, we are delighted to provide new and reliable reference points to support their work. Through our ongoing collaboration with leading publishers and content providers we look forward again to making unique and hard-to-find material easily accessible to the global health arena" commented Heather Crosbie, Director of RMIT Publishing.

Your own evidence-based information resource on natural medicine